

Plan to Assess Progress

This information was shared with our faculty during our monthly faculty conference. Teachers used a Survey Monkey to analyze teacher data and to confirm our findings. The Inquiry Core Team determined there is a need for teachers to revisit Steps 5 and 6 using the findings from the Data Meetings. They are Analyzing which steps they have been successful at implementing and where in the process they are to ensure next steps that go beyond skills and strategies but move toward a specific problem of practice. After discussion and analyses of student work, the team must be clear about their focus of inquiry and identify what strategies they will focus on in our school wide problem of practice of developing metacognition and independence across our school.
